DEDICATION

"To the Greatest University of the West, in Embryo."

DR. HENDERSON

His was the power to touch the opening buds of human life and make them blossom into splendid character.

Dr. Martin Perry Henderson was one of the most brilliant, and at the same time one of the most dearly loved men who ever blessed the B. Y. U. His fine scholarship put him on a level with the great scientists of our nation, and his insight into, and his love for human nature, made him a master teacher.

From early youth Dr. Henderson displayed that remarkable quality of unfaltering industry which was one of his great characteristics. It actuated his scholastic activities at the B. Y. Academy, the University of Utah, and the University of Wisconsin.

Having taken out his Ph. D. in 1914, he came to the Brigham Young University the following year where two years ago he became Dean of the College of Arts and Science. In this capacity Dr. Henderson had ample opportunity to come into direct contact with the students, and those who did come in contact with him, desired to live cleaner, think deeper and strive for higher things. He assisted them with their problems, and encouraged them to continue their work in education. In fact, he became the great teacher friend of the students, and how well he succeeded in this great art can best be summed up in what is written in their hearts. There lies a firm resolve to live in thought and deed in harmony with the higher vision which his teachings gave them.

One problem which vitally interested Dr. Henderson was the effect of tobacco upon the body. It was his opinion that the lowered efficiency of tobacco use might be shown through scientific experimentation, to be carried to the third and fourth generation. Although he was not permitted to see the problem to its conclusion, the investigation which he began is to be carried on in the institution.

We cannot forget Dr. Henderson—that man to whom principle was paramount, in spite of personal interests. In our lives his spirit cannot die.

Edward A. Morgan

He was sincere in purpose
—noble in deed.

Sympathy, competency and an inspiring personality were distinctive characteristics of Edward A. Morgan, who was summoned by death December 22, 1923. Wherever Mr. Morgan was known he was loved and his earnest efforts in various educational institutions of Utah were crowned with success. His sincerity, kindness and sympathy endeared Professor Morgan to his many friends and students. Though he had been with the institution but a short time, his influence for good was keenly felt and his absence is much lamented.

REESE SANDERSON

Foreword

I shall sing you a song of the joyous past,
I shall cause you silent tears,
I shall gladden your heart with the glorious dream
Of success in future years.

For here in the heart of myself I hold you,

And whether you lose
or win,

Of the battles of life, I
shall love you all,

College pals, for the
friends we've been.

I am the Banyan.

President Franklin Stewart Harris

President Harris merits recognition as an administrator because of his excellent executive ability; honor because of his lofty ideals; eminence because of his scientific and vocational writings. He plans with us, dreams with us, and works with us.

Superintendent Adam S. Bennion

Superintendent Bennion inspires us with a dynamic personality and fires us with ambition to work for greater things.

Geo. H. Brimhall, D. Sc. D., Ll. D.

President Emeritus. Head of Department of Theology

He is a man who sees the beauty beyond the horizon and imparts its invigorating truths to others. His teachings open the gate-way which leads to the maximum abundant life, and the flowers of thought which his inspirational speeches leave in the hearts of the students must surely ripen into precious fruit.

John C. Swenson, M. A.

Acting Dean of the College of Education

Rapid but consistent development in the department of the College of Education have been greatly fostered by the activities of acting dean Swenson. The result is that the objective of this college in the training of teachers for efficient leadership is being realized. Close cooperation with the Provo City system has extended the laboratory of training experience for the large number of students securing normal certification.

Carl F. Eyring, Ph. D.

Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences

The great opportunities provided through the departments of the College of Arts and Sciences, meet the needs of a liberal as well as a specialized education. Original investigation in the fields of science is fostered and equipment for graduate work is offered. Dean Eyring has most successfully directed the activity of this College during the past year and his valuable advice has been appreciated by the numerous students under its jurisdiction.

Harrison V. Hoyt, E. E., M. B. A.

Dean of the College of Commerce and Business Administration

The College of Commerce and Business Administration, under the Deanship of H. V. Hoyt, is recognized as having placed into the business field, during the 3 years of its existence, men who are wholly capable to meet with practical problems and to fill responsible positions with merit. The close cooperation of intermountain business firms has made possible the practical application of the business training.

The demand for the graduate of this college is not wholly local and far exceeds the present number. The standard of work done and thoroughness of training justifies the excellent rating which this college of our University is rapidly obtaining.

M. C. Merrill, Ph. D.

Dean of College of Applied Science

The College of Applied Science provides instruction in the scientific principles and technical operations pertaining to the farm, home, shop and all professions related to them. Under the efficient leadership of Dean Merrill, who has received extensive training and professional experience, this recently created College has won much distinction; and in spite of its youth now ranks third in membership among the various colleges of the University.

Lowry Nelson, B. S.

Director of Extension Division

The service of the Extension Division is invaluable in carrying the message of fruits of education to those who do not have the opportunity to do residence work. Director Nelson has spared no effort in his attempt to develop and expand this department. Through its three divisions Social Service, Correspondence Instruction, Lectures and Enertainments, the influence of the "Y" has been carried to thousands of students and citizens of the intermountain country.

Christen Jensen, M. A., Ph. D.

Chairman of the Division of Graduate Work

Comparable to the expansion of the various colleges of the B. Y. U. has been the growth of the Graduate Division. The membership is constantly increasing and the approved rating of Y credentials will undoubtedly effect even a larger enrollment in the near future. The excellent scholarship of chairman Christen Jensen is an asset to the division and his efforts to see that due consideration be given these advanced students and that the highest of graduation standards be maintained, are being happily realized.

Mrs. Amy Lyman Merrill

Dean of Women

She Loves Girls!

As Dean of Women at the Y, Mrs. Merrill is a potent moving force. She cultivates all the finer phases of college life—having initiated the A. W. S. movement here last year and started it working as a permanent institution. Out of this has grown the annual Girls' Banquet, which it is hoped will become one of the permanent traditions of the school.

Mrs. Merrill is the advisor and counselor of the girls. She stimulates them to greater effort in scholarship and cooperation with them in their social problems. She comforts the homesick, the heartsick and sometimes the lovesick. She loves girls.

Hugh M. Woodward, Ph. D.

Dean of Summer School

Much of the success which attends the summer sessions at the Brigham Young University, may be attributed to the zealous and efficient efforts of Dean Woodward. Under his direction, the Alpine Summer School has won national recognition and is known to be a vital factor in extending the influence and prestige of the university. The teaching corps has been enhanced by securing for the summer term distinguished men from other institutions which has likewise increased the enrollment and has been the means of drawing students from remote localities to our institution.

The B. Y. U. Alumni Association

The past year has marked the organization of THE GREATER ALUMNI OF THE BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY; it has been a year of organization. Locals have been formed in most of the important towns of Utah and Idaho and in some of the larger school centers of America.

Among the locals which have been organized are the following: Chicago, New York, Holden, Spanish Fork, St. George, Benjamin, Castle Dale, Provo, Pleasant Grove, Payson, Draper, Silver City, Hinckley, Nephi. The spirit of loyalty and devotion is manifest everywhere. While the old students appreciate what their Alma Mater has done for them, they are looking forward to a bigger and greater University.

The official organ of the association, THE ALUMNI ANNOUNCER has been issued every month to all whose names and addresses could be secured.

CLASSES

Graduate Students

M. A. degrees were awarded at the close of the spring term to the following graduate students:

Hyrum Manwaring
Rexburg, Idaho

Head of Training School, Ricks Normal College.

Major—Education
Thesis—"The Ricks Plan."

Elizabeth Lindsay
Provo, Utah

Major—Education
Thesis—"The Basis for Selection of Teachers in Representative Utah Districts."

Wendell Stout
Cedar, Utah

Branch Agricultural College, Cedar, Utah
Major—Education
Thesis—"Survey of Preston City School."

The increasing membership in the Division of Graduate work signifies distinct development in the opportunities offered by the institution and a confidence in its standards. In addition to those who have successfully fulfilled the requirements for graduation, there are twenty-six students who are at present doing graduate work. The summer sessions draw even larger numbers of advanced students to the university, and we look to the future for a great expansion in this field. Graduate credit was obtained by approximately seventy-five students during the two sessions of the 1922-'23 term.

Juniors

We are the Juniors. This year we accomplished all that tradition required of us and more. We have done our utmost to enjoy ourselves and to add to the spirit and prestige of our Alma Mater.

Among our noteworthy accomplishments of the year is the winning of the basketball and debating championships, the presentation of a clever junior vodie and the annual promenade.

The Junior Prom of 1924 was not only a joyous reality but remains a happy memory of rhythm, color and song. Into a dreamy garden of the orient the guests were ushered by little Egyptian maids. At once the perfume of incense rising from grotesque burners, the mellow multi-colored lights, masses of tropical ferns and the magic well with its crystal waters and sacred lotus, shut out all semblance of the Oxident. Oriental music enhanced the mistic atmosphere and made this unique rendezvous in the realm of "King Tut" a supreme success.

Sophomore and Loan Fund Ball are inseparable. Every Sophomore class of the B. Y. has, according to tradition, this big undertaking as its outstanding activity. It is not presuming too much to state that the Loan Fund Ball of this year was a complete success financially and socially. The spontaneous cooperation that so characterizes the class was the real means through which this affair was "put over."

The big work accomplished, social, athletic, and mental activities received consideration. A "Kid's" party, Weenie Roast, Class Social and a moonlight hike with the Frosh comprise the social events. In athletics and forensics the Sophs were well represented, taking an active part in the inter-class series.

Last fall the Freshman class, which was the result of a blending of the "conglomerate" that came from all corners of this western part of civilization, met and organized a class—for it had been taught in high school that organization is the fundamental of success. The Freshmen meant to be successful.

The first feat which proved their merit occurred one night, in North Park where all greenlings showed the Student Body by outbursts, supported by the lungs, that they were of and for the B. Y. U. They won the yelling contest by practice and co-operation. A silver loving cup was presented them by "Dutch" and "Jiggs."

The respect and envy of all the students of the school was obtained when the Freshies won the cross country run through the excellent record of Richards. Of course this led to a slight indulgence of turkey which was enjoyed by every Freshie.

Who could forget the day when the "chlorophyll bunch" put over one of the best Freshie days in the history of the school. The day's program was introduced by the Freshie Y News which was edited by the Freshman class. The chapel program, and dance were just as successful. Every contest during the day, but one, was won by the "youngsters."

1923-1924 was a banner year in that the Freshman class was the largest ever registered in the history of the B. Y. U. The Frosh made it a banner year for the Student Body by furnishing lively men for inter-collegiate debating, basket ball and swimming. In all college activities it would not be doing what George Washington is well known for not doing, when we say that the Freshman class has furnished and developed leaders that the school in future years will be proud of.

The Secondary Training School

The Secondary Training School of the Brigham Young University is a dual purpose institution. First it offers an excellent opportunity for mature students to attend High School without the usual embarrassment which they feel when thrown into close competitive association with younger boys and girls. The courses of study are superior due to close co-operation with the college and the library facilities are vastly more extensive and superior to anything the average high school has to offer.

The second group directly benefiting from the Secondary Training School is the large number of college students preparing to teach in the public high schools. These students get the theory in their classes. The Secondary Training School is their laboratory. Their work is supervised by a fine corps of experts and this supervision keeps the teaching power of beginners on a high plane of efficiency.

GOVERNMENT

Student Body Government

The close combination of scholarship and campus activities results in real college success. Toward a realization of this ideal the members of the Student Body Council have directed their whole effort during the past year. They have manifest the highest type of cooperation in an effort to make available the largest possible number of campus activities to supplement the academic life of the institution, and in response to these opportunities the support of the student body as a whole has been most unusual. Close contact between the various members of the council has been maintained, and there has been developed during the year, as a complementary unit, the All-

A. REX JOHNSON, President

Presidents Club, composed of the presidents of all campus organizations. This organization has resulted in tying more closely the smaller groups with the larger whole. As a result of the endeavors of these central controls there have been inaugurated on the campus a number of new and stimulating features.

In short, the Student Body Council has been able to dispose of its routine duties in the way of adjusting political differences and controlling the activities of the individuals and in addition projected a vigorous program for the whole group. This concerted effort has resulted in a distinct widening of the student body sphere of service.

A. W. S.

The purpose of the Associated Women Students organization at the B. Y. U. is to train for leadership and initiative among the women of the University; to further in every way the spirit of unity and democracy in student body life; to increase in its members a sense of responsibility toward each other and to be a medium by which the social standards of the University can be kept high.

The organization came into being in 1922-'23 when the women students became affiliated with the National Associated Women Students Organization. Delegates attended the Western convention held at Salt Lake City in the fall and the first president, Anna Marie Eggertson represented our organization at the National Conference at Columbus, Ohio, in May, 1923.

Two delegates, President Laura Gardner and Gladys Watson, were our delegates attending the Western conference of Associated Women Students, held at Tucson, Arizona, in April of this year.

One of the prominent social activities of the organization for 1924 was the Girl's Banquet given in Hotel Roberts February 23. Here originality and talent combined to make the function one of distinction. The Annual Girls Day was also successfully conducted by this organization to the conclusion that the feminine portion of the institution in no means lacks ingenuity and administrative ability.

Hereafter the Student Body vice-president will automatically become president of the organization, and with a corps of officers under her will work in connection with the Student Council.

Public Service Bureau

In developing Leadership the students must be given the opportunity to appear before the public. The function of the Public Service Bureau is to give the schools, wards and organizations of this community programs of merit and better entertainment, and to afford an opportunity for the talented students of the school to grow in their art by public presentation.

This year hundreds of calls have been answered by hundreds of the trained of the institution. Programs in which one to ten students have participated have been sent to every possible function.

Royden Dangerfield, second vice-president of the Student Body and director of the Public Service Bureau, has guided this organization through its fourth successful year. He has arranged the programs and furnished the speakers. His co-workers, who have made every effort to further this function in leadership, are: Nell Clark, director of dramatics and dancing; Mark Allen, director of vocal music; Harlen M. Adams, director of instrumental music.

The school year 1923-24 marks the third year that THE Y NEWS has functioned as the official newspaper of the B. Y. U. Student Body.

Previous to the fall of 1921 the WHITE and BLUE was the newspaper, literary magazine, and comic sheet for the school. At this time through the efforts of Editor A. Glenn Hubbard, the student body newspaper became known as THE Y NEWS and the WHITE and BLUE became a purely literary magazine.

With the exception of one unsuccessful attempt to make the NEWS a five column semi-weekly, it has always been a seven column paper issued every Wednesday of the school year.

The editorial staff, averaging fifteen members, is chosen by competition. The business staff, composed usually of four members, has done exceptional work in making the NEWS a success financially.

To carefully record the news of the university and to assist in every possible way in retaining the old "Y" spirit among the students, has been the policy of the editors. The NEWS is only one of the many units that are working for a greater university.

As the school grows the NEWS will also take on larger and better proportions and as this comes about it is the wish of the students that it will always stand whole-heartedly for a united student body.

The Banyan is the official care-taker of school events; the preserver of our memories and our gallery of portraits. In case of doubt as to name or date we consult the year book and in hours of pleasant reminiscence we leisurely turn its pictured pages. For several years the Banyan staffs have arduously endeavored to improve this publication and the desired results have on the whole been realized. Several innovations have been featured, the number of pages increased and improvement in artistic finish has been achieved. It has been the constant aim of the Banyan staff to put out a bigger, better Banyan each year and by so doing worthily represent our growing institution.

The "White and Blue," the medium of literary composition and the "Y's Guy," the official comic magazine, were suppressed for the year due to a deficiency in the budget.

DEBATING

Debating at the "Y"

DR. CHRISTEN JENSEN
Chairman Debating Council

Debating is a major sport at the B. Y. U. The school forensic calendar contains a large portion of inter-collegiate and inter-class debates. These debates are conducted by the Student Body under the auspices of the Debating Council. The members of this council are Professors Christian Jensen, Chairman, John C. Swenson, T. Earl Pardoe, Wm. J. Snow, and Elmer I. Miller.

A new policy has been adopted by the forensic department this year. In the past a few men have represented the University in all inter-collegiate forensic contests. This year the policy has been instituted of giving more individuals the opportunity of competing in intercollegiate contests, and of increasing the number of contests. The University this year, was represented by a squad of eleven individuals in five inter-collegiate debates.

The debating program for the past year has been very successful. The season opened with the inter-class series; each class entering two teams. The traditional tri-angle debate, the feature event of our debating program, was the next in line. These debates were followed by the interstate debates with U. of Redlands, U. of Wyoming, and the U. of Southern California, all of which were held on our own floor.

UDELL JENSEN Mgr. Forensics

U. A. C. vs. B. Y. U. at Provo

Young U., Utah U., and the U. A. C. met in the annual state triangle debates on January 25 last. The debate between the A. C. negative and the B. Y. U. affirmative teams at Provo was the last feature of the third annual Leadership Week. In this debate the A. C. men were successful in convincing all three judges to the soundness of their case.

The B. Y. U. was represented by Miss Helen Hinckley, Mr. Royden Dangerfield, and Mr. Carlyle E. Maw. Messrs. Milton Merrill, Verel Fry, and Francis Wilcox upheld the negative case for the Aggies. The chairman for the occasion was Reverend Charles McCoard of Provo. The judges were: W. M. McCrea,

ROYDEN DANGERFIELD

HELEN HINCKLEY

L. B. Weight, and G. A. Iverson, all judges of the Third Judicial district of Salt Lake City.

The question debated was "Resolved, that the United States should immediately grant independence to the Phillipine Islands on substantially the same basis as that enjoyed by Cuba."

The B. Y. U. team upheld the affirmative side of the case. Miss Hinckley as first speaker, pointed out that conditions in the islands needed attention and that a plan of government such as Cuba had would be practicable in the Phillipine Islands. Mr. Dangerfield, as second speaker, pointed out how it would be an advantage to both the Filipinos and the Americans. Mr. Maw in the last affirmative speech showed how the proposed step was the logical one and how we were morally obligated to grant it to the Filipinos.

The A. C. negative presented rather an unusual case—a case not exactly anticipated. The first speaker, Mr. Merrill, argued for complete independence when we did give them independence. The other speakers, Messrs. Fry and Wilcox, pointed out that the proposed plan was not the plan for the Phillipine Islands and that the people of the islands were not ready for any such plan.

The rebuttals were a battle royal. The affirmative came back with straight and clear answers to the negative objections, but the negative were able to hold the validity of their arguments before the judges.

The debate was one of the most interesting and closest that has been held here for some time. The unanimous decision of the judges was a surprise to many.

CARLYLE E. MAW (Captain)

U.U. vs. B.Y.U. at Salt Lake City

SHERMAN CHRISTENSEN

The B. Y. U. negative team met defeat at the hands of the U. of U. affirmative team at Salt Lake City. The decision was two for Utah, one for Young. The debate was held in the afternoon in Barrett hall as the opening game of the intercollegiate basketball series between the U. of U. and the B. Y. U. conflicted with an evening affair. Supporters of both teams filled the hall to capacity.

The debate was close and interesting, the audience being in doubt until the very last minute, and then the case was left to the judges who decided in favor of the University arguers.

Messrs. Sherman Christensen, Orvel Hafen, and Udell Jensen represented the B. Y. U.

The chairman for the occasion was Dr. A. L. Neff. The judges were C. N. Jensen, G. N. Child, and Nephi L. Morris.

The question debated was the same as used in the other triangle debates. Resolved, that the United States should immediately grant independence to the Phillipine Islands on substantially the same basis as that enjoyed by Cuba.

The affirmative argued that we were morally obligated to grant independence to the Filipinos. That there was a stable government in the islands—the condition the Jones law required before we granted independence. That the people of the islands were ready for independence under the proposed Cuban plan.

The negative maintained (1) that the Filipinos were not prepared for the proposed change, (2) that our experience in Cuba did not justify such a change, (3) that the present plan was advantageous to both parties. They further contended that by changing the government would be giving them a worse form than they now had.

The rebuttals were centered around whether or not the plan proposed would help out the conditions in the islands. The affirmative contended the Filipinos needed the change in order to give the people of the islands more privileges under self-government. The negative maintained that under the present plan the desired end would be attained sooner.

ORVAL HAFEN

UDELL JENSEN (Captain)

U. of Wyoming vs. B. Y. U. at Provo

The first debate between the Young University and the University of Wyoming was won by Wyoming, all three judges concurring. The debate was held in College Hall Friday, April 4th.

Drue Cooper and Sherman Christensen defended the negative case for the B. Y. U. Messrs. Ralph Conwell and Herbert Woodman upheld the affirmative side for the University of Wyoming.

The question debated was: Resolved, that the United States should enter into the World Court of International Justice under the Harding-Hughes reservations. The judges of the debate were: Judge G. A. Iverson, Judge Ephraim Hansen, and Judge Josuha Greenwood. Supt. H. A. Dixon acted as chairman.

The debate was of the highest order. The arguments were clear and concise and were presented in an effective manner by both teams. The debate was much closer than the decision would indicate, many disagreeing with the decision of the judges.

WILFORD RICHARDS (Captain)

Young's first debating victory this year came when Mr. Heber Rasband and M. Wilford Richards, representing the B. Y. U., defeated Mr. J. Russell Andrews and Mr. Wayne Orton, representing the U. of Redlands, by a two to one decision. The debate was held in College Hall Monday, March 24th.

The question debated was. Resolved, that Congress should have the power to nullify decisions of the Supreme Court by reenacting laws declared unconstitutional. The judges of the debate were: C. N. Jensen, G. N. Childs, and K. K. Stephenson all of Salt Lake City. Mr. George W. Worthen acted as chairman.

The Redlands debaters presented a very excellent case. The audience was very much in doubt as to just which team would receive the judges' decision. The negative case, upheld by the Y men, was very well worked out. The first speaker, Mr. Rasband showed that the power to nullify laws has not been usurped by the Supreme Court, because it was understood when the Constitution was framed. The second speaker, Mr. Richards, showed that the present system has worked successfully for one hundred and thirty-five years; and that the proposed plan had no consistent basis.

U. of S. Calif. vs. B. Y. U. at Provo

The Young debaters defeated their old forensic rivals, the University of Southern California, in debate on the local rostrum Thursday evening, April 3. The debate was the second of the series, the first being held in California last year, with California as winner. Again the home team won, this time however, the winners being representatives of the "Y."

The affirmative was upheld by the B. Y. team, composed of Mrs. Jaunita Pulsipher and Mr. Walter E. Clark. The University of Southern California team, Messrs. William Barber and Bernard C. Brenan, defended the negative side of the question.

The question debated was: "Resolved, that the United States should enter the World Court of International Justice under the Harding-Hughes reservations."

The debate was well handled by the participants. Both teams presented their respective cases in an excellent style.

The principal arguments of the B. Y. U. team may be summed up as follows: We want such a court because it is needed, it will work, and it will prove beneficial to the world. It will work because it is the result of a slow evolution of social forces. Recent combat and present day problems make the use of such a court imperative today, and the court which has been suggested is the combination of all the best principles which international justice and jurisprudence has yet devised. The court will work because it has already worked in some important cases and right at this time many other nations are preparing to use it. Our joining will be beneficial to us and the world because all nations being interdependent, world cooperation is necessary. If the United States joins, it will assure perpetuation of the court and give us an opportunity of assisting to shape its future policies.

The negative endeavored to prove that the court isn't properly organized, it isn't working, joining it means allowing foreign powers to settle our domestic problems and arbitration is better suited to present day needs. The second negative speaker pictured the judges of the court opening the Panama Canal as they did the Kiel in Germany. Arbitration is better because it is more flexible, will better meet today's problems and has already proved itself capable of solving grave international problems.

Interclass Debating Series

Juniors and Seniors split honors in the Interclass Debates. The Junior Affirmative team consisting of Juanita Pulsipher and Carlyle E. Maw, and the Senior Affirmative team composed of Elsie Johnson and Helen Hinckley, tied for first honors. The series was left a tie as the Intercollegiate debates conflicted with further debates.

The question for the series was similar to that used for the intercollegiate contests. In this way the series proved valuable in bringing out the school's debating material. The outline below illustrates the manner in which the debates were held.

Our Coaching Staff

E. L. ROBERTS
Director of Physical Education

Director E. L. Roberts stands out pre-eminently as one of the greatest coaches of the western country. Clean sportsmanship in competitive athletics is the standard for which Roberts has striven in his position as physical director of the "Y." Athletes should be athletes through love of the sports, rather than any remuneration, is Roberts' ideal. "Coach" has done much toward elevating the standards of athletics in the B. Y. U., and his persistent, earnest efforts have been for a greater B. Y. U. and a whole-hearted "Y" spirit in every department of its activity.

Coach Twitchell's three years of work at the "Y" have been marked by a great expansion of the athletic department. At heart Twitchell stands as one of the best football coaches of this country. His excellent work in placing the "Y" on a conference map within two years has surprised experienced critics of the gridiron game. Coach believes that if a man wishes anything the easiest way to get it is to persistently work for the thing he desires. This has animated the coach's department and enabled him to build a strong football team, win two basketball championships and place the "Y" on an equal basis in competitive sports with the other big universities. His three years of work have been exceedingly successful for the "Y" and proves the real worth of the Coach.

ALVIN TWITCHELL

Y Field. Cougar vs. Crimson Game

GEORGE A. FOX
Graduate Mgr. Athletics

Athletics at the B. Y. U. this season have been highly successful. The athletic manager's position was changed from a student body office to a salaried graduate manager. George Fox was appointed graduate manager and devoted much time toward making a successful season.

The "Y" played its second year of Rocky Mountain Conference Football this season. The football, through unswerving loyalty and hard work brought continued laurels to the "Y" camp. Two weeks after school began the Cougar machine had humbled the Montana Bobcats. Later on it held the famous Colorado Aggie team to a meager score. A number of Utah fans were much discomfited when the "Y" easily held the famed Utes to two touchdowns and a dropkick. At Colorado Springs the pluck and sheer grit of the "Y" warriors excited the admiration of everyone. The major sport for 1923-24 was indeed successful and is another story of what "Y" spirit can accomplish.

In basketball the Cougars excelled as in no other art. Rocky Mountain Champions, experienced hoop artists they were indeed.

They won seven of eight inter-state collegiate games, three of five practice games and two out of three game series for the Rocky Mountain Championship. A record truly fitting a championship team! The winning of the Rocky Mountain Championship is one of the greatest feats accomplished for many seasons, by a Utah school.

In the minor sports, Brigham Young University Athletes were not lacking. By winning the Inter-State Wrestling Contest the Cougars retained for the second year the State Championship of the mat game.

Swimming, though handicapped by not owning their own pool was successful, the "Y" paddlers taking second place in the inter-collegiate "duck" race.

As this book goes to press the "Y" has just been defeated by the Utah tennis men in a closely contested battle. The "Y" narrowly lost the two doubles set and one singles to the Crimson racquetters. The remainder of the season will be any school's title until the finish match.

Chances for a track pennant looms large at the B. Y. U. At time of printing there are about fifty men training persistently in order to place the B. Y. U. team in the lead. Utah's team excels perhaps, in the sprints while U. A. C. has strong men in one or two field events. The B. Y. U. is placing an evenly balanced team in the field. The weights should be garnered by the Church school and also many track events. The inter-school meet between the letter men and non-letter men will be an index to the "Y's" chances for another state pennant.

Other activities, such as the club and class series of Basketball have brought athletics closer to the individual student and played an important part in making athletics at the "Y" successful.

Captain Ike [Brigham] Young

Captain Ike (Brigham) Young completed his second year at Varsity football for the "Y" this season. Ike began playing as a freshman before the B. Y. U. had entered the Rocky Mountain Conference. One of the best tacklers in conference football, Ike is well fitted for the position of Captain. Captain Young graduated this year and this season ends his college career in football. His absence will be keenly felt in the athletic field. Ike also leaves a name which stands for hard work, scholarship, and integrity of character.

Captain-Elect Elwood [Rip] Gledhill

Captain-Elect Elwood Gledhill was chosen by the varsity men to captain the 1924 Cougar eleven. Rip is well fitted for such a responsible position. He played for the "Y" high school and began college playing freshman ball until the B. Y. U. became a full fledged Conference member. The first year of varsity, Rip held the pivot position for the Cougar machine. This year he was shifted to a guard position. Rip's consistent work was one of the prominent features of the "Y" line.

Through the perseverance and integrity of Gledhill's work he was indeed the outstanding character in the B. Y. eleven. As captain of the 1924 team Rip's leadership will do much to make the "Y's" third conference season a success.

MONTANA STATE GAME

B. Y. U., 16; Montana, 15.

The B. Y. U. began its second year of conference football determined to let the world know that the "Y" had a team to be feared.

Coaches Roberts and Twitchell faced the problem of building up a team within two weeks after school had started. The problem was solved through long practices and a strenuous training. Two weeks after the beginning of school the Cougar football machine was pronounced ready to meet Romney's famous Montana Bobcats who journeyed south to meet the Cougars in their lair.

Before an enthusiastic crowd of "Y" supporters and spectators the Blue Cougars ushered in the second football season of the B. Y. U. It was a perfect machine that met and humbled the Bobcats. Cougar superiority in holding the line and a fast backfield explains the fact that Romney traveled homeward with his team holding the short end of a 16 to 15 score.

COLORADO AGGIES, 14; B. Y. U., 6

The week after the Cougar machine had humbled the Montana Bobcats, the B. Y. U. football team journeyed to Fort Collins. The husky Colorado Farmers, exultant over a previous battle, in which they held Chicago University's Maroons to a ten point score, prepared for an easy victory over Young's infant warriors. Carrying the "Y's" indomitable fight spirit with them Coach Twitchell's proteges entered the battle with a determination to fight to the utmost.

Before the game had progressed long, the Farmers realized they were fighting a real conference team. The Blue line held consistently against the varied attacks of the experienced Aggie force. Only twice did the Hughes' machine succeed in pushing the ball over the line and then only after a battle which the spectators watched with awe. Not content with holding C. A. C. to a two touchdown game, the "Y" Cougars surprised the conference and upset the "dope" careful critics had prepared, by carrying the pigskin through the thick of battle for a touchdown and a score on the famed Aggie team.

COLORADO U., 41; B. Y. U., 0

Traveling from Fort Collins to Boulder and meeting the two strongest conference teams within one week was one of the "Y,s" many problems. It was a badly bruised and crippled machine which met the Boulderites on the following Saturday.

The conference Champions entered the game fresh and full of battle. A concentrated attack upon Dixon caused his removal early in the game and thus weakened the "Y's" chances. A bewildering system of aerial attacks took the Cougars with surprise. The entire game was played on forward passes. The "Y" eleven bruised and crippled were smothered with the accurate passing of the Champions and unable to stave off a defeat of 41 points.

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH 15, B. Y. U. 0

The biggest feature of the Cougar season was the battle with Utah's Crimson crew. Enthusiasm and football spirit predominated at the "Y" for days. Thursday preceding the game a gigantic rally prepared the "Y" warriors for the battle on the B. Y. U. field. Friday the Utah student body sent a few representatives to Provo to warn the "Y" of Utah's spirit.

The largest crowd ever seen at Provo for football, witnessed the battle for pigskin honor. The enthusiasm of the entire "Y" student body proved that the Cougar eleven did not lack support.

Before the first half was over spectators began to realize that the Cougar infants were hard to defeat. The half was one long-to-be-remembered battle and ended with score 9-0 for Utah.

The second half began with an end run for Utah which ended the game as far as the score was concerned. Utah gained a touchdown making the score 15-0. The remainder of the tussel displayed the fact that the erstwhile champions could make no additional score. Time after time Utah pushed the ball within scoring distance only to be blocked by the "Y" line which held as a wall, and the game ended with the discomfited champions returning home surprised and full of dismay that the B. Y. U. had held Tommy Fitzpatrick's eleven to such a meager score.

The "Y" eleven met the Western State College of Gunnison, Colorado in a non-conference game.

The game resulted in a complete victory for the "Y" team. The Teachers, outweighed in all departments had a hard time bucking the stone wall of the Blue and White warriors. The Western State College fought gloriously but superior playing and the heavy line bucks of the "Y" triumphed. Coach Twitchell's men succeeded in rolling up a valiant 19 point score while holding the State College scoreless thru the four playing periods.

The visitors resorted to many forward passes in an effort to avoid defeat. The passing was on the whole, inaccurate and in most cases easily anticipated and blocked by the Cougars. The score is the story of the game, "Y" 19, Western State College, 0.

The game with Romney's Farmers proved to be disastrous to the "Y." The Cougars left Provo accompanied by a large number of B. Y. U. supporters.

The "Y" suffered an off day, playing far below Cougar standards. The wily Floyd Thomas successfully evaded "Y" tacklers in open runs, while the husky line plunger Knowles succeeded in breaking down the B. Y. U. defensive line.

The Logan gridiron warriors proved worthy foemen, and succeeded in winning the Utah Football Championship.

COLORADO COLLEGE, 31; B. Y. U., 6

The B. Y. U. football eleven played the last game of the Football season at Colorado Springs. The battle was staged on the Turkey Feast day. The "Y" team was especially determined to finish its second conference year with a real scrap.

Before the Colorado Tigers awoke the "Y" had scored a touchdown. The Tigers now began an earnest fight and though the score was largely in their favor the "Y" line held the opponents for first down's a number of times. The score was made on freak forward passes and skillful playing. Director Meade of C. C. athletics, after watching the game stated that the Cougars had one of the best trained lines in the conference. Satisfied that the game was worthy of B. Y. U. ideals the team returned home full of enthusiasm for the "Y's" football future.

Frosh Football

The infant team for the B. Y. U. proved itself to be worthy of the "Y" in several ways this season. The coaches spent practically all of their time with the Varsity eleven and as a result the yearling team suffered much.

Undaunted, however, they reported and practiced each night and provided some keen work for the Varsity team. They also, under the coaching of graduate manager Fox, made a trip southward where they humbled the Payson High School. Later on in the season they invaded Snow Normal Academy and returned victorious.

The big state game was lost to the "U" Frosh who were well coached for the fray. On the whole, the season was successful and served to initiate several new men who will probably wear the big Varsity "Y" next season.

Captain Reed Stewart

Captain Stewart completes his third year of basketball for the B. Y. U. this season. Stewart in his three years of College ball has become one of the most consistent forwards of the hoop game this state has ever seen. Reed's consistent scoring and steady floor work have commanded the praise and respect of everyone watching him at a game, and have earned for him an all state forward position this year. Of the entire quintet Reed is most eminently fitted for the captaincy of the B. Y. U.'s Rocky Mountain Basketball Champions of this season.

Rocky Mountain Conference Championship Game Which Brought the Conference Championship to Utah

The Colorado College Games and the Rocky Mountain Conference Champion Team

The biggest feat of the entire year was the capture of the Rocky Mountain Conference Championship title by the B. Y. U. Colorado College, three years State Champions of Colorado, sent the Cougar five a challenge to meet the Utah Champs in a three game series to decide the final resting place of the Rocky Mountain title. The Cougar Coaches accepted the challenge and prepared to battle the Tigers on the Provo floor.

It was Cougar vs. Tiger in three great battles, the stronger was to hold and have the coveted championship. The battles were staged in the "Y" gym, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 10, 11, 12. The day of the big event Captain Stewart became a victim of the mumps and the Cougars were forced to enter the game handicapped by the loss of one of the mainstays of their winning combination. A new group was tried out Monday night before a crowded gymnasium. The Tigers were victorious, due undoubtedly to the new type of playing and the "Y" handicap with a new combination. The score Monday was: B. Y. U., 38; Colorado College, 40.

The Cougars determined, overnight to score a come back Tuesday evening, and the game was a complete victory for the "Y" forces. The scorers worked efficiently, the guards became skillful at blocking the Tiger's varied attacks, and as a result the second game of the big series left the "Y" one victory, Colorado one. The score was: B. Y. U., 40; Colorado College, 38.

The big battle for honors was left for Wednesday. Students filled the "Y" gym to overflowing. Both teams entered the game determined, to do or die. The Cougar quintet maintained a lead over the opponents during the entire game. The score left no doubt as to who were the superior hoopsters. Twice had the "Y" defeated the Tigers. The third night the score read: Colorado College, 25; B. Y. U., 32.

Defeating the Colorado quintet and winning the title to the R. M. C. was but one of the features accomplished by this year's basketball artists. Out of a total of sixteen games played this season the "Y" was victorious in thirteen of the battles.

U. OF U. VS. B. Y. U. AT SALT LAKE CITY FRIDAY'S GAME

PAUL PACKARD
All State Guard

The race for the Utah State pennant began at the Utah gymnasium, January 25, 1924. Tommy Fitzpatrick's quintet began the game confident of easy victory. Within a short few minutes of play Utah scored a foul pitch while the "Y" machine had easily rolled up sixteen points. From this time on the outcome was not in danger, the easily scoring Cougar five scored twenty-nine against their opponents' eleven by the close of the first half.

The second half seemed but to prove further the supremacy of the B. Y. U. five. Utah's scoring machine was woefully inaccurate and had but few set ups due to the superior guarding of the "Y." The B. Y. U. aggregation seemed to gain the ball easily and the accurate forward passing always ended with another score. Just at the close of the second half Roberts substituted for all the first line men except Howard. With the entrance of new men Utah tried hard to stave off defeat but were held to the score of 21 for Utah, 38 for the "Y."

SATURDAY'S GAME

The game played Saturday had a very different setting. In the Deseret gym before a multitude of "Y" students, accompanied by the band, the Cougars prepared to meet the Crimson Utes. The Utah five, undaunted by previous defeat were determined to battle as never before in order to humble the big Blue Five.

The game started with a tremendous rush from Utah which left the "Y" a few points behind. The rush, however, was soon blocked by the "Y," who slowly overtook Utah's lead and then continued to put a safe margin between the two scores which was easily maintained throughout.

In the second half all attempts at a Utah rally failed, the "Y" quintet repeating some accurate scoring and passing which left the Ute five in a stage of bewilderment. "Rags," the flashy center, was replaced by Romney, who was forced to play with an injured hand. Still the "Y" led easily until the final shot left the spectators in no serious doubt as to the superiority of the two teams. Score: Utah, 26; B. Y. U., 36.

A. C. U. vs. B. Y. U., AT PROVO

FRIDAY

In the Northland the Logan Farmers worked feverishly all season determined that the Cougars should not pass. They invaded the Cougar lair with the best quintet Romney has been able to produce for many years. They came from the North with a determination to win. Friday's game witnessed the only defeat the Cougars suffered in their march on the State pennant. The Farmers' accurate shooting is the story of the first half. B. Y. U., 15; A. C. U., 20.

During the second half the "Y" hoopsters fought valiantly and several times were on the winning end of the score, but luck was against them and their few set ups were too closely guarded to give them a chance at the hoop. When the whistle closed the game the score stood, A. C. U., 43; B. Y. U., 37.

SATURDAY'S GAME

Saturday night did not see a repetition of the Farmer victory. "Y" students crammed the rafters to aid the Cougar quintet. The "Y" five entered the game with the thought in mind that only brings a victory. The guards closely watched and held the Aggie to a minimum score while Young's scoring "three" passed the ball far over the heads of the bewildered Aggie crew. It was a different team than the one which was defeated the evening before. "Y" superiority on the guard line, "Y" superiority in passing and shooting, "Y" superiority predominating the game left the results in favor of the rejuvenated five, and Romney's crew went home holding the short end of a 21 to 38 score.

U. OF U. vs. B. Y. U., AT PROVO

FRIDAY

Utah's invasion of Provo was a much heralded event. Revenge being uppermost in their mind they came to Provo in no defeat-taking mood. Their famed center, Collett, was back in the hoop game and an easy defeat of the "Y" had been much talked of. For a few minutes after the game started, it appeared that a close battle would be witnessed both sides passed furiously but were unable to score. The Cougars finally caged a basket which started them out on a long lead which Utah never menaced. The bad luck of Utah's scorers proved that the Cougar guards were allowing them but slight chance at a basket. The referee's gun closing the game left the score reading Utah 22, B. Y. U., 36. Another laurel for Young superiority; and the "Y" another step nearer the state pennant!

SATURDAY'S GAME

B. Y. U. vs. U. OF U.

Saturday, Utah invaded Provo with the Students' band, and a large number of the Student Body. Utah was determined to wrest one game from the mighty Young quintet. The Utes fought and fought hard but always was the Cougar machine ready; blocking, playing, securing the ball, and consistently scoring. The end of the first half Utah 14, B. Y. 17, shows the fight to have been a real battle.

The second half Utah recovered somewhat and the flashy Collett worked hard but Young's center, "Rags," proved to be a no mean artist at the game. Utah went down gloriously fighting to a superior five who had become expert at the hoop game and were not to be stopped in their march for the State pennant. The score was: Utah, 32; B. Y. U., 34.

A. C. U. vs. B. Y. U., LOGAN SERIES

FRIDAY

Utah Aggies hold a "jinx" over the B. Y. U. For seven straight seasons this spell has been successful. With state pennants within our grasp the "jinx" of Logan has entered in and stopped the "Y" advance. This year with one victory needed to clinch our already near Championship the Cougars faced the northern "jinx," and Logan was prepared. Critics thought that it was impossible for the B. Y. U. to gain a basketball victory in Logan. It was with firm step, though, that Twitchell's five journeyed north determined to win one of the two game series. Imagine the consternation of the Farmers when Young's invincible scoring machine crept into the lead which it easily maintained during the entire period. Imagine the great "bedlam" of joy that shook the "Y" when they received news of the Farmer defeat at the score of 30, B. Y. U.; 27, U. A. C.

A new championship team had at last invaded the Farmer lair and broken the mighty "jinks" of the Loganites.

SATURDAY'S GAME

While fans were still talking it over, while students and B. Y. U. supporters rejoiced at the winning of the State pennant the Cougar five again humiliated Romney's quintet. Beginning the game with second string men, the "Y" aggregation was smothered by the Aggies' spirited comeback. At the beginning of the second period the "Y" main team entered the fray and soon the short gap in the score closed up while a new one with State Champions in lead, opened. It had never been done before, this double victory in the Aggie camp, yet here were five champions who made the feat an actual fact, and who returned to the "Y" with a new State Basketball pennant safely tucked away for the 1924 season.

The score was: A. C. U., 25; B. Y. U., 32.

Club Series Champions

DIXIE CLUB

The initiating of the the club series of basketball into the campus sports was a novel feature of the season. Each club upon the campus furnished a team composed from the club membership. This made the club series extensive in nature for no less than 10 clubs participated. The club teams then engaged in a series of games each Tuesday and Thursday, in which each club met each other one during the series. Much good material was brought to the front throughout the series enabling many floor artists to come before the coaches, who otherwise were unable to devote their time to the direction of the entire group. The series was a decided success. The Dixie club being the winners, are to be heartily commended on the efforts which have enabled them to successfully defeat every other organization team on the campus.

Class Champions

The Junior class has performed a remarkable feat this season. Entering the "Y" three years ago it was successful in carrying away the class championship. A year rolled by and the same class came again as students at the B. Y. U. Once again the class series was entered and captured this time by the team of the same class, though now Sophomores. As Juniors this class meets and in the class series for a third consecutive year is successful in the fray, and the Junior class produces a championship team. Another year, as Seniors, they may again emerge victorious and have the honor of being class Champions for four consecutive years.

Mieth P. Maeser

Track Captain

Captain Maeser is one of the veteran men of the state in Field events. Having won various honors throughout his high school and college career he knows the track and field sport thoroughly. Maeser's outstanding quality, which places him in a leader's position, is his honesty in living up to the ideals and standards of what he considers B. Y. U. sportmanship and "Y" spirit.

TRACK TEAM

Track Prospects at the B.Y.U.

Prospects for a track championship look bright for the "Y" cinder men this season. At time of printing this issue two dual meets for the "Y" have taken place and the state meet draws near. In the first dual meet of the year the Utah team were defeated by Coach Romney's fast crew. The score was 77 to 59. The Logan boys caught the Crimson off guard and easily won the meet to the surprise of dopsters and track fans. Fitzpatrick's crew was figured as an easy win in the shot put, the javelin, and the sprints were also given to Utah. The result proved the failure of pre-season dope.

The "Y's" first track meet held at Logan gave the Farmers another victory, piling up a score of 82 against the Cougars' meagre 54. The "Y" lost in nearly all of the track events. In the high jump Young and Maeser held their own while Maeser in the discus made another state record hurling the plate 126 feet, nine inches.

IVAN YOUNG

HOMER WAKEFIELD

STANLEY GUNN

The second dual meet for the B. Y. U. against the Crimson crew was a thriller from the shot of the first gun until the announcer gave the final results of the last event which gave the "Y" a two point lead. The score was 67 to 69. Many surprises happened in the meet, not the least was Van Luven's speeding across the tape first in the 440 yard run, and the Cougar annexing all three place in the event. Another was the capture of the shot put by the Cougars, Howard taking first place. Frosty Richards easily captured the two mile run cutting down the state record four seconds. A real thriller was the final sprint of Homer Wakefield winning the mile run by a bare fraction. The final event bringing in the bacon was Utah's capture of first place in the javelin, while Hullinger and Christensen taking second and third, thus rolled up the necessary score, clinching the meet for the Cougars.

JESS HULLINGER

Annual Cross Country Run

The Annual Cross Country Run was entered by sixteen men. The scheduled day, Wednesday before the Thanksgiving holidays, was ideal for such an event. "Dope" was considerably upset during the race. A young Frosh athlete, Frosty Richards,, shattered the long standing record of Wayne Hales, who made the five and two-tenths mile in 23 minutes 46 seconds. Running easily and with but little effort Richards covered the same ground and crossed the tape in 22 minutes 48 seconds. A few minutes later Ivins Bentley followed Richards, taking second place in the big race.

Tennis

The opening set of the inter-collegiate tennis tournament resulted in victory for for the Utah University racquet men. The "Y" put up a splendid fight. And Utah only won after one of the most closely contested sets. The "Y" lost both doubles and one of the single's contest. With each institution meeting each other twice, the inter-collegiate race for racquet honors is still to be determined. The "Y" is presenting a group of experienced tennis men and will bid strong for state honors.

In the inter-school tennis tournament the ace racqueteer, Buck Dixon, Rocky Mountain Champion, came out victorious after a closely contested tournament.

Wrestling Successful at the "Y"

B. Y. U. 12 points; U. of Utah 9 points; A. C. U. 9 points

The B. Y. U. mat men were again successful in winning the State Championship in wrestling. Hard work, with little coaching, was the determining factor. The team, captained by Ardell Blackham, successfully captured the State meet by winning first place in the 158 lb. class and 135 lb. class, and also won a second place draw. Captain Blackham merits much praise for his incessant work and enthusiasm. For two years, now, he has retained the state title in the 135 lb. weight class. Jesse Hullinger sprang a surprise on the state when he captured the 158 lb. class in the meet. It appears as if the Cougars intend to permanently retain the wrestling title first won a year ago when wrestling was introduced as an intercollegiate sport.

Swimming

Utah, 27 points; B. Y. U., 20 points; A. C. U., 18 points

University of Utah swimmers were again successful in capturing the state honors in the intercollegiate swimming meet. The "Y" presented a strong team which had been trained intensively by Prof. Leaf for the meet. The "Y" relay team composed of Johnson, Robinson, Harris and Richans took first place in 160 relay shattering the state record for this event. In other events the "Y" finished strong, taking second in 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, and also in the 40 yard dash.

Dramatic Art

T. EARL PARDOE
Head of the Dramatic Department

The usual growing success of the institution was reflected in the ever increasing activity of the Dramatic Art Department. This year saw the finished production of two department plays: "Sylvia Runs Away" and "The Golden Age"; the annual Student Body play: "The Taming of the Shrew"; and many one-act plays staged by advanced students of the art.

Professor T. Earl Pardoe, as director of the department, continued his aims through his work: to give good cultural entertainment to the school and the community; and to give opportunity for a large number of students to gain experience in public presentations. "The Champion" was produced by Professor Pardoe, with a number of B. Y. U. students, for the Community Service Bureau, in the Provo High School Auditorium. The scheduled faculty play was not given because of lack of time.

The stage personnel consisted of Bryant R. Clark, departmental and student body manager; Alonzo Morley, stage manager; Clarence L. Jensen, properties; Leonard Bacon, assistant electrician.

those advanced in the art are in great demand as efficient instructors.

The "nation-known" band gave many programs north of Provo and made its annual spring concert tour to the south. The glee clubs were often evident in splendid numbers and they entertained in nearby communities. The magnificent chorus and the orchestra were always appreciated for their splendid and willing service in the school and city. The opera, new in the school only through its competitive introduction, was one of the usual high class productions of the year.

Choruses by the B. Y. U. Opera Chorus.

THE B. Y. U. BAND

The band started early in the first quarter on one of its most successful years. It was better, more active and larger, consisting of fifty-one members.

On the first tour it visited Lehi, Jordan, East Side and Jackson High Schools and the Hotel Utah. Also programs were given at Provo, Lincoln, Springville, Heber and American Fork High Schools. Concerts and dances were given, on the annual spring concert tour, in Moroni, Mt. Pleasant, Ephraim, Manti, Fountain Green, Gunnison, Salina and Richfield.

The officers of the organization were Professor Robert Sauer, director; Melvin A. Brimhall, manager; Osmond Crowther, publicity.

B. Y. U. Wood Wind Quintette

Orchestra

Because of its cultural and educational value, the B. Y. U. Symphonic Orchestra is a vital factor in our school life, and is much appreciated. The organization of 1923-'24 has been the largest and finest in the history of the school.

A number of concerts were given in Provo and surrounding communities during the year. These entertainments were of high standard, presenting to the people what is best in classical, semi-classical and semi-popular music. A new feature was inaugurated when the entire group furnished the accompaniment for the school opera, "Iolanthe."

This body forms the nucleus for the county Symphonic Orchestra, which is doing a great work in fostering good music and musical education. The production of the highest quality of music has been the constant aim of the organization.

B. Y. U. Symphonic Chamber of Music

B. Y. U. Mixed Chorus

As one of the uplifting organizations of the institution, the General chorus has done its bit towards the achievement of high standards. It has risen to the occasion on each demand. Many compliments were received for its splendid work during leadership week and high praise was given the Opera Chorus work in "Iolanthe."

Much credit is due the directors of the organization for its success which it achieved, for the inspiration they gave was the foundation upon which the chorus was built.

Mask

The 1923-24 program of the Mask Club was scholarly and dramatic. Its varied nature, combining comedy and tragedy, indeed typified its "mask." The student enthusiasts of the club were the stars of the various programs. This unique feature fostered club spirit and accounted for the dramatic interest of the one hundred club members.

The program of the year included the following: Student Body Novelty Ball, given under the direction of the Mask Club, the Marcellus Smith and company musical; an evening of one-act plays given for the Leadership Week guests; and the Mask Banquet. For the first time since its organization the club was represented at the Drama League Convention at California.

The activities of the club featured students and advanced students in the dramatic art department, read dramas and presented one-act plays to the club members. Following is the list of the plays that were read this year:

"Next to Kin," by Charles Klein; read by Ruth Perkins.

"We are Seven," by Eleanor Gates; read by Lysle Lindsey.

B. Y. U. Women

During the year of 1923-24 the B. Y. U. Women's Organization has functioned very successfully in the lives of its members. The programs presented have been on works of the World's great artists in music, painting and sculpture. Papers have been prepared and read by the members, as well as some of the professional people of our school and city; and illustrations of the works of great masters in music, have been given by men and women from our own B. Y. School of Music.

This year there has been an active membership numbering approximately one hundred, composed of the wives of the faculty, lady teachers, wives of the members of the board, matrons, and women who are, or have been officially connected with the school.

The objects of this organization are to foster a spirit of friendliness, to provide a means of social intercourse and intellectual advancement, and to promote the interests and ideals of the school.

The meetings are held semi-monthly with an occasional evening party where the husbands and gentlemen friends join in the entertainment. These meetings have been made more homelike and intimate by the privilege of meeting at the homes of the members.

The special activities of the year have been the Faculty Family Party on the B. Y. U. Campus, September 15; the Girls' Reception at the home of Mrs. H. G. Merrill; Reception and Ball to patrons and club ladies of Provo, on New Years Eve; a Children's Party conducted by the Training School faculty, and a party and reception for all faculty members who have been away and are going away during the year.

Each year some project has been fostered for the school, so this year the B. Y. U. Women decided to give some tangible aid to the Home Economics Department. In cooperation with this department the Emma Lucy Gates concert was given and the proceeds turned to the department thus named.

In addition to the social and cultural features, the organization has placed in the library a book in memory of each of the following:

Prof. E. D. Partridge, Aretta Young, Dr. M. P. Henderson, E. A. Morgan, John S. Smith, Mrs. Maria W. Poulson and Timothy Baldwin Clark.

A decorative border in a light green color frames the page. It consists of multiple parallel lines with small square and rectangular motifs interspersed, creating a classic, elegant frame.

Vivien McDonald

A gem from the gem state is fair Vivien, winner of the Venus laurels for the year. Charmingly sweet and wholly feminine, she knows full well the weight of frown or tear, of glances naive or smiles bewitching.

But Vivien is not vain, for well she knows that beauty glows with brighter hues, when kindled from the fires of wisdom and of common sense. A creature to be wooed and won!

Vida Broadbent

“Personal Magnetism” won in the popularity contest. Vida is a friend to everyone. She radiates the joy of living to all who come near her. She is a student of high merit; sensible, thorough, efficient. Human magnetic power seems an inborn part of her. She has a charming personality, a pleasant smile, a cheery word for everyone.

“Who is Vida? What is she
That all the swains commend her?”

Edmund Evans

Edmund entertains us! He charms us with Hawaiian melodies, reads for us, plays for us, cheers for us and laughs for us. "Dutch" is a bit Epicurean but we are told that more serious veins are embedded in the strata of his make up. He is our popular man for the year.

In the center of the stage is seen a large painting, draped with crepe and with the inscription across the bottom, "The Modern Inferno," by Michael Angelo Lewis.

As the curtain rises Michael Angelo Lewis and Leonardo DeVinci Bushman are discovered criticizing the picture.

L. D. V. Bushman: And what circle is this friend Michael?

M. A. Lewis: That, dear Leonardo, is the outer circle, and maybe you don't think these fellows wish it were the inner circle.

L. D. V. Bushman: Why, isn't it hotter there?

M. A. Lewis: Yes, but these people tried to get into it all their lives and failed, they were social aspirants, who were sent here for sins against the "Book."

L. D. V. Bushman: The "Book"? What book?

M. A. Lewis: The "Book of Etiquette," dumbell. There is a goof who didn't know what conversation to make to his partner at the dinner table. Ha! ha! he doesn't get any dinner now.

L. D. V. Bushman: And who is the woman stewing in the pot of oil?

M. A. Lewis: That's the wife who fozzled the party for her husband's boss. Personally, I think that gang of cigarette smokers we saw a couple of circles back ain't having half such a helluva time.

L. D. V. Bushman: And this poor chap being podded and forked by the devil?

M. A. Lewis: That's a guest who picked up the wrong fork, and the frozen creature next to him is the man who said "Please to meetcha" to his sister's best friend on whom he so wanted to make a good impression, and that weeping pair over there in hot water is the man who was off side when escorting two ladies along the street and the man who got half a dozen dates for the same night.

L. D. V. Bushman: Over there, I know without being told is the poor perplexed girl who was brought home from a party by her beau, and didn't know the answer to the question, "should she ask him in?" By the way Michael, old dear, that's always stumped me too. What is the proper caper?

M. A. Lewis: Well, what did Lily used to do about you?

L. D. V. Bushman: Now you're getting personal, let's get the hellouta here.

(Curtain)

Brigham Young University,
September 29, 1923.

Dear Muggins:

The deal old school has again awakened to action. This promises to be the best year yet.

Two weeks have passed since we first greeted the institution for the year. They've been an exciting two weeks!

We've had a Student Body Mixer, a Handshake, and whoop-in' rally, a game and lots of other things to keep us busy, like lessons, new books and financial figurings in our check book.

The B. Y. Rooters staged a thrilling rally! I was afraid they'd wake up the Bobcats of Montana but they must have been hibernated securely out there for we won our first Rocky Mountain Conference Game from them today with a score of sixteen to fifteen.

No more do I have to be called "Little Sister," so cease right now, Muggins, for I've two dear little Freshie sisters whom I'm to keep happy. All the girls have been affiliated into families now.

The Freshies must obey the back door policy from now on and must wear green caps. They're fine at cleaning the "Y" though. Since its recent cleaning it fairly screams its importance to the Community. There are so many Freshies that I'll bet my best reputation they arrived in carload lots. Harold Candland is their president.

Our Dramatic Art Manager has just arrived today. You know him, Bryant Clark.

This school is certainly great. I'll bet its founder has a seat on the golden stairs.

Say Muggins, do you think we'll have to fill out pink slips for St. Peter? Anyway there'll be lots of people slip on the stairs.

Hoping you're the same,
Banyan Betty.

Far from the Maddening Crowd. On this fifth day of October. In the year nineteen hundred twenty-three.

Dear Mug:

This is to be short. It's just to say that we're still partaking of the glorious B. Y. spirit.

The most important thing that has happened lately is right now—We're having a holiday while our worthy members attend conference.

The Banyan sent out an S.O.S. yesterday for brilliant intellects. Think I could fool 'em, Muggins?

This week the Frosh enjoyed inspection by the Board of Health and have undergone a weenie roast on the hill.

You can't keep a good thing down. The "Y" has been admitted to the American Council of Education. Now what do ye think o' that?

Professor John C. Swenson has been chosen as a director for the Ellison White Chautauqa.

Hoping you're the same.

In holiday garb,
Banyan Betty.

Library,
Tuesday all day,
October ninth.

Dere Muggins:

Our Youngsters left today for Colorado to play football, amidst cheers, high hopes and good luck.

Intermission.

Later, October 19.

Such ill luck as I do have. I've been so busy, but now I have time to write.

Last week " Sylvia Runs Away " was presented by the Dramatic Art Department, in College Hall; this week in Pleasant Grove.

Then our ball game in Colorado—but we're not beaten yet, even if Fort Collins did score fourteen to our six. You can't beat the B. Y. U.!

We've had Founder's Day this week. We began it was a master parade to Maeser Hill, all of us decked out in red, blue and white. Up on the hill we had speeches by Dr. Brimhall and President Harris. They reviewed the dreams and aspirations of the "Y." We had a program in College Hall, a ball game with Provo High, and at night a ball. Thus we celebrated the foundings.

The officers of the A. W. S. were elected today. Vida Broadbent is vice-president and head of the Little Sister Plan.

A mighty contest was begun here last week when our cheer master, Dutch, and his disciple, Jiggs, offered a silver cup to the noisiest class in school. It's in the form of a rally. I mean the contest is.

All the sisters, big, little, short, fat, long, healthy, lean, skinny, or otherwise, were entertained at the home of Dr. M. C. Merrill last Thursday.

I've heard a great deal about a seance that the Seniors are to have when they find thirteen chairs. Sounds kinda spooky, eh? But no one else is worried so I guess I won't run yet.

* * * *

I had a recess to find out about the game with Boulder, Colorado. If ye have tears— We lost 40-0.

Hoping you are the same,
Banyan Betty.

On Our Back Porch,
Sunday, October 28.

Muggins, Old Dear:

It's rained and rained and rained. We go about looking to see if we have web-feet.

But our spirits aren't dampened yet. Our master rally was held last Wednesday. The cup was given to the Freshies. We all won, though, for we used our practice in the big game with the "U" on our field Saturday. Just crowds of Utah students were there. I suppose you've heard about their fifteen and our—well we didn't score anything.

The high and mighty Juniors held a Hallowe'en party on Thursday night where King Hilarity reigned supreme.

Friday we had one of those glorious days that we all enjoy so much—a holiday. The Idaho Club made the best of the opportunity for they had a hike to Maple Flat.

Our Loan Fund is beginning to take shape again. This time it's in the shape of Life Saver. Owen Romney is manager.

Some of our loyal fellows flamed the "Y" on the mountain last Friday night, just to remind folks that this is the place and that enthusiasm really lives here.

Hoping you're the same,
Keep Smiling,
Banyan Betty.

November Third

Chere Amie,

Where shall I begin?

Have you heard about our games this week? Our Frosh got licked by the "U" Frosh—41-0, wow! On Saturday we defeated the Colorado State Normal Teachers' College—19-0, on our field.

Our President has gone East to attend a convention and to persuade the government to sell us some land for the Alpine Summer School.

I have heard that the Y's Guy has a case of financial embarrassmentitis and is quarantined for the year. Scandal says that the White and Blue has the same disease.

The Junior fellows have invested in uniforms: the most distinguished looking corduroy trousers and tan sweaters. O, to be a Junior boy!

The Seniors' Seance developed into a play, "The Thirteenth Chair" with ghosts and murders. OOOOOOOOOOO!

Last night our gym witnessed a most hilarious time. Dancers in misfit faces and coats were the guests of the Mask. Smiles and kisses were the most exciting features of the evening. Muggins, how dare you? Of course not. They were the kind that come in boxes.

Hoping you're the same,
Au Revoir,
Banyan Betty.

Third Seat, Sixth Row,
Library, November 17.

Well, Muggins, here I am again:
We didn't do much socially around here last week. Everybody mourned the death of Dr.
Henderson. We need him so.

This week's work began with our battle at Logan on Armistice
Day. Aggies won 40-0.

Our angel football star, Bobbie Wilkinson, acquired a ruined knee in hall practice the other day. Can't play any more.

Debating has begun in earnest.
Owen Romney has by long and faithful practice acquired polish
as the hero of the new play,
"Golden Age." Cess Johnson is to be the heroine.

Mrs. Pardoe read "War Brides"
in our Armistice Day Program.
Oh, it was wonderful!

The Freshies staged an overall-sack apron dance on Wednesday.
It's reported that they enjoyed it as only fresh, budding things can.

We're having basket ball class series this week. Sounds like we're to hear basketball in reality
soon.

Our annual Loan Fund Ball went over the top last night to add three hundred dollars to our life saver fund.

The Ag. and Home Ec. Clubs
held a costume party in Ladies'
Gym the other night.

Did you notice that 13th on the calendar this week? Did it bring bad luck? It didn't here.
It did to some people though.

Hoping you're the same,
Fare three well,
Banyan Betty.

Midnight, Nov. 24.

Dere Muggins:

This is to be brief.

We welcome the return of President Harris from the East.

Who says we aren't famous!
Our old Timp tree has been placed in the Hall of Fame.

That's not all. Our band has been giving concerts in Salt Lake City.

"Golden Age" was a comedy
with lots of spice.

We've a new club in school. All the recognized bosses of various clubs have organized "The President's Club."

Class debates have been won by the Seniors and Juniors.

The girls held their annual Jamboree tonight. Nary a man was allowed.

The Junior Class has begun work on their Junior Vodie.

I'm sleepy.

Hoping you're the same,

Thanksgiving at hand,
On the right foot of
my bed, Nov. 28.

Mug—I'm in a hurry:

I guess that should have been the twenty-ninth, it's one a. m. I've just come from the Thanksgiving dance. It was fun.

After four hours' sleep I shall board the train for home. HOME! Muggins, do you hear? to stay four whole days.

This has been a most exciting day. Between getting ready to depart and my lessons. I've been to a very good program, watched the cross country runners come in and helped the Frosh eat the turkey.

Frosty Richards won the cross country race. Besides that he broke the record, making five and two-tenths miles in twenty-two minutes, forty-eight seconds.

Last Monday the "Y" orchestra gave a concert for the benefit of our Stadium Fund.

The Banyan has issued its first call for pictures. Its Freshies and Sophies first.

Tomorrow, Muggins, we play the Tigers in Colorado.

"Golden Age" goes to Spanish Fork during the holidays.

Friday night the Rolling Pin Dodgers are going to have a party. They are married students who seek recreation and rest.

Hoping you're the same,
Banyan Betty.

Home for Thanksgiving,
Friday, Nov. 30.

Just a line Mug,
Game score 31-6. Colorado
won. Holiday's are great.
Hoping you're the same,
Banyan Betty.

Dec. 8, Returned.

Exams!
Exams! Exams!
Exams! Exams! Exams!

Dear Mug:

I do feel better now they're all over. We've finished the greater this week and it's almost finished me.

The school hasn't done much socially but educationally—gee—they're swift! Some of us can do a whole quarter's work in one week.

Yesterday was Frosh Day. They wore green, radiated green, were green. They gave a clever program in Assembly. The ball in the evening was a treat.

The Freshies unlocked the skeleton closet this week. Scandal about Student Body Officers formed an interesting part of their issue in the "Y" News.

The Girls Volley Ball team played the Faculty team yesterday. The mighty faculty won 25-21.

A site for our stadium has just been purchased which goes to prove that if ye hang on to yer dreams, they're sure to come,
sum day.

Hoping you're the same,
Horse-Shoe Luck to Ye,
Banyan Betty.

Beginning the Winter Quarter,
December 16.

Dere Muggins,

This was the week when we erased our slates and started anew. We've also welcomed
some new students.

Last Monday we gave a special program for Dr. Brimhall in honor of his birthday. He is now seventy years young and one year old.

Our debating team has been chosen this week. The successful ones are Dangerfield, Hafen, Jensen, Hinckley, Christensen and Maw.

The Emma Lucy Gates concert has furnished the biggest excitement this week. She is special god-mother of the Home Economics Department. She gave a concert last night for the benefit of the department and a dinner to some of the girls.

We've had the annual Leven Oratorical contest today. A. Rex Johnson won it and no wonder on such a subject as Peace. Most married men can idealize it anyway!

The Seniors have decided to give their project fund to our stadium. We're gona have one some day, Mug.

The "Y" News distributed the Christmas issue this week with the prize story by Hilda Miller.

We played "Golden Age" in the Third Ward last Monday.

That night the Block "Y" club gave a successful dancing party in Bonneville ward.

This week the "Y" News announced that Saturday night will see the last Soph kid party. Sounds like they're growing up! Hurrah!

Hoping you're the same,
Banyan Betty.

Just Before Christmas,
December 22.

Dear Muggins,

I'm just going to write a note. Oh, Mug we go home for two whole weeks to celebrate Christmas!

School this week was mostly taken up with anticipation of next. But we've had a few interesting things happen.

Mask Club gave a splendid program Thursday night. A group of Ogden artists gave a program of reading from the life of Christ. We had a good Christmas program in devotional yesterday too.

Last night we had the most glorious Christmas dance.

So now you know all that's happened. I shall wish you heaps upon heaps of Christmas wishes and holiday cheer.

Hoping you're the same,
Banyan Betty.

After 2 weeks of glorious holidays we return in 1924 to the B. Y. U. Then within 2 weeks we recover sufficiently to write (with many apologies) to our friends on Jan. 20, 1924.

Dear Muggins,

Accept all my humble apologies and enjoy these New Year Greetings.

The whole B. Y. must have enjoyed the holidays for it took us all last week to get over them. However we did some interesting things around here.

The Juniors staged a Master Vodie in College Hall. It was the best that's ever been given around here.

We had a basket ball game with the L. D. S. U. and they won!

Edmund Evans read "The Man from Home," in Mask. Gee! Mug, but he's a good reader.

The Sanpete and Idaho clubs had a mis-fit frolic on Saturday.

Now to this week.—

Preparations for Leadership Week have held first place everywhere.

Monday we awarded the football fellows their honors for this year. Sweaters and blankets were given. On Wednesday the football banquet was held at Hotel Roberts. Elwood Gledhill was elected captain for 1924-25.

The tryouts have been held for the competitive school play. Alonzo Morley and Ina Creer will play the leading roles in "The Taming of the Shrew."

The Juniors held a Leap Year party last night. More fun!

Friday night the Art Service club gave a carnival. Everyone was costumed. We've adopted a new saying, "As many colors as the color carnival."

Coach Roberts has been appointed a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and also a member of the American Olympic Committee. We're surely proud of him.

Mrs. Merrill has come back to school. Seems good to see her again after long illness. She gave an interesting talk to the girls Friday.

Hoping you're the same,
Banyan Betty.

The Sunday after the week before. January 27.

Leader Muggins,

You wouldn't have recognized the dear old B. Y. this week. Two thousand visitors swarmed our halls and registered as ambitious folks.

We had interesting lectures on most any subject you can name. We had lectures in Assembly by President Grant, Adam S. Bennion, Melvin J. Ballard and Oscar Kirkham.

The boy scouts were prominent since they did a kind deed a day and wore blue kerchiefs all week. Social Leadership classes were very interesting.

And the nursery—O, Mug! I wish you could have seen all the cute youngsters we took care of so their mothers could go to meetings.

Besides the social hours each afternoon we had entertainments for our guests. Monday night a get-acquainted party; Tuesday the Band Concert; Wednesday an evening of one-act plays and Thursday a pageant.

Friday night we debated the A. C. here and the U. in Salt Lake. We lost both but we're trying to be good losers.

After the debate the Alumni Association held a reception.

Friday and Saturday we defeated the U. in both basket ball games. Friday's score stood 38-21; Saturday's 36-26. So that's some consolation.

Recovering from stiffness, bruises and general activity. Saturday, Feb. 1.

Dere Muggins,

We've just had the most thrilling hike. The Student Body had a mid-winter hike to Vivian Park, this week end. We went up Friday afternoon and came back today. We lived in cabins, danced, skied, tobogganed, skated, ate—just a glorious round of fun.

Tuesday and Wednesday we played ball with the Colorado Teachers. They won the first game and we took the second.

The Frosh are having a dancing party tonight.

You know Dr. M. C. Merrill? He's leaving this week to go into government work in Washington, D. C., as Editor of all the Forestry Publications of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. We shall surely miss him. But sh—Mug, the new Prof. who takes his place is young, good-looking and unmarried! His name is Morris. Hurrah, for our side!

You should see the goats this week. Block "Y" fellows all dressed up in snowy-white trousers, panama hats, overcoats and galoshes. They've actually made a flapper out of Helen Hinkley. Another pure girl gone wrong.

Hoping you're the same,
Banyan Betty.

February 9,
Just Friday.

Top o' the Mornin' to ye
Muggins,
And may your shadow never grow less!

Gee, do you know we lost that game Friday night to our Farmer friends? But anyway we won the one last night from them.

Truly this has been an exciting week.

Monday, I've Nielsen read "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" at Mask. Well done it was, too.

Afterwards the Arts and Science Students entertained for Dr. Merrill. I met the new Prof. and say, Mug, my sus—picions were correct!

The prettiest thing that Provo has seen in years came in the form of Blossom Time last week—a musical, the life of Franz Schubert.

Thursday night the "Y" High School put on "The Charm School," and charming it was. Ruth Clark was leading lady and Elton Billings the hero.

That night the Milliard club had a party.

Friday the tryouts for the competitive Opera were held.

The English classes have organized a Literary club.

Interstate debaters chosen this week are Clark, Pulsifer, Rasband and Cooper.

The Missionary Club had a frolic—well maybe missionaries don't frolic but from what I've heard it sounded like frolic—in the Ladies' Gym last night.

A terrible catastrophe has fallen the Faculty play. Cupid has captured the Copperhead, now they can't have it. Lawry Nelson has been captured by Cupid and awaits sentence next week.

Hoping you're the same,

Banyan Betty.

From the top if the Garden Wall.

February 17.

Hurrah!

We won the ball games from the U. this week. Friday we beat them 36-22; Saturday 34-32! We see the championship coming our way!

Springville, a former student of the "Y" were married the 14th.

Lowry Nelson and Florence Newell were sentenced to spend the rest of their life together. They've left for school in Wisconsin.

Edna Holdaway of the Stenographic Bureau was the third married this week.

We had a Pep Vodie the other night. The clubs of the school each gave an eight minute act. Idaho club took first prize. The Sanpeters took second.

There's an art exhibit of famous pictures by Calvin Fletcher and J. B. Fairbanks up stairs this week.

Friday's assembly consisted of a Valentine program very cleverly carried out.

Hello Mug.

Another week of victory! We're the proud possessors of the State Championship in basketball! We won both games over the Aggies this week end. This is the tenth time we've captured the championship in twenty years!

Socially, we've put over the Junior Prom. The Juniors carried away all honors. It was decorated in Egyptian design—the most unique affair in years.

Thursday night the Cherniavsky Trio gave a concert in College Hall. It was wonderful.

Another of our B. Y. students has taken the plunge—Ted Barrett of Idaho. He was married last Wednesday and left immediately after for a mission to the Southern States.

The A. W. S. held a very successful banquet at Hotel Roberts last night. Only girls were allowed. Pretty decorations and clever toasts were there. Erma Rockhill was toastmistress.

Hoping you're the same,

March 1, 1924.

Greetings to ye,

Yesterday past, a day of years—February twenty-ninth. The "Y" celebrated. The girls gave a clever program and a leap year dance.

Last Monday the school celebrated its victory with a mass meeting down town. Such enthusiasm! It's no wonder we win.

The Wind Instrument contest, held Monday night, was won by Floyd Larsen and his saxophone.

The Band played in Springville Wednesday night.

Anna Marie Eggertson read "The Romancers" in Mask Thursday. We liked it very well.

Next week is Banyan week. We voted for the celebrity contestants yesterday.

The Juniors won the basketball series championship.

The Oratorical contest held Thursday night was won by Francis Smith.

Coach Twitchell has the mumps.

The weather ought to be good. We had Cecil Alter, state weather man, here to talk to us last Wednesday.

Dear Muggins,

This was the week of weeks—Banyan week. We began by having a stirring program in Assembly. During the week we've conducted the celebrity contest and the sales campaign for Banyans.

The girls in the celebrity contest were, Vida Broadbent, Verna Decker, Ethyl Hodson; beauty, Norma Allen, Erma Murdock and Vivian McDonald. The popular men were Edmund Evans, "Rags" Ingersoll and Golden Romney. Won by Vida, Vivian and Dutch.

The Sales Campaign was won by Paul Dixon, second Hilda Miller, third Libbie Cook.

The candy shower dance was the climax of the week. Everyone much enjoyed the candy.

Friday we gave a program up at the University of Utah. It was an exchange one. They're sending one down here soon.

This week Adam S. Bennion, the idol of the "Y," began a series of lectures on Literature and Life.

The married students are having a party in the art gallery tonight. If their name is true they should be among our famous athletes they're so expert in dodging rolling pins.

Hoping you're the same,
Banyan Betty.

After the quarter is over.
Saturday, 15 of March.

Oh! Oh! Oh!

Those are sighs of relief and shouts of victory. Sighs for the exams are over, shouts for our Rocky Mountain Championship victory.

We played the College of Colorado three games and won two. Isn't it glorious?

We've taken enough exams to last for three more months now.

The Adam's stringed instrument contest, held last Monday, was won by Florence Priday and her famous strings. She's got strings on other things as 'eaven only knows.

Yesterday the U. of U. Student Body gave the program in assembly. It was very good. President Barker, Vice-Pres. Johnson, Nial Nelsen, Aldrich, trio, glee club and the orchestra entertained us.

The B. Y. student body entertained for them at luncheon and at a matinee dance. Victory Day Ball.

Professor Woodward has just returned from a convention at the University of Chicago.

The Mask gave an interesting program this week consisting of selections from Charles Dickens.

The Dixon Extemporaneous

speaking contest was won by Carlyle Maw this week.

The Block Y. is holding a formal dancing party in the Ladies' Gym tonight.

Jiggs and Kent Crosby have the mumps. Do ye know we've had dozens with the mumps around here?

Hoping you're the same,
Banyan Betty.

The Beginning of the End,
March 22.

Dear Mug,

We are today beginning the spring. It has been a very busy week. "Man is that he might have joy." We'll, he also can experience misery. If you don't believe it you should try to get registered for six classes that come at the same hour.

We've had the competitive opera this week. "Iolantha," it was, with A. Rex Johnson, Melba Condie, Cess Johnson, Rolfe Pratt, Merrill Bunnell and Ruth Partridge, in the most important parts and dozens of fairies and good looking men.

Track work has begun in earnest now. Coach Twitchell has called out all the athletes to win the state meet.

Our band gave a concert in American Fork Tuesday. They also played one for us on Friday morning.

Tonight our wrestling team captured another state pennant for us. Our wrestlers are Spense Larsen, Jess Hullinger, Ardell Blackham, Hy Ward, Milton Hunter and Golden Andrus.

We've had the first day of spring yesterday, too, with about a foot of snow.

We had a circus last night in the men's gym. We had clowns, dancers, a band, a one-act play—oh, everything! It was a regular circus.

Hoping you're the same,
Banyan Betty.

April 5th.
Before Breakfast,

Dear Muggins,

Hurrah! We've won two victories lately. We won two debates. The first with Redlands, California, the second with Southern California. Rasband and Richards won the first; Pulsifer and Clark the second. We've lost a debate to Wyoming. Christensen and Cooper were our wranglers.

The competitive play was presented last week. Alonzo Morley was very successful in Taming the Shrew who was Ina Creer.

The A. C. Glee club visited us last week. They sang for us in devotional. We wish they'd come more often.

Our band has been gone all week on a tour of southern Utah. We surely miss them.

This week scout executive Miller of Los Angeles was our visitor.

Supt. Adam S. Bennion completed his lectures here this week. We wish he would come more often.

Mrs. Merrill, Laura Gardner and Gladys Watson left yesterday for Tuscon, Arizona, to attend the A. W. S. convention at the University of Arizona. Wish I could go.

We had a holiday yesterday. It's conference recess. I'm going to conference this morning.

Hoping you're the same,
Banyan Betty.

With the Sun Shining
Bright,
On April 11.

Dear Muggins,

Our band returned all safe and sound last Saturday. They had a very good trip save for the mud they encountered. We're surely proud of them.

The B. Y. 'U. program that went to the "U" a few weeks ago has gone to Idaho for a week's tour.

Our B. Y. has just received fifteen hundred dollars from Mrs. Ellen Henderson as a gift for research work. We're very grateful.

Alonzo Morley read "Friendly Enemies" at Mask last Wednesday. He's very good, Mug. Alma McElrath presented a one-act play also.

The Jex Oratorical contest took place this morning. It was won by Richard Harris.

The "Y" tennis tournament has been held this week. The winners are Buck Dixon and Lee Buttle.

Dr. Wm. J. Snow gave a paper before the Utah Historical Society last Sunday night.

Cupid has captured some more "Y" students. This time it's Arthur Crawford and Vesta Pierce.

I've just read this over, Mug. It sounds like the Bulletin Board of the morning paper, but I'm in a hurry.

Hoping you're the same,
Banyan Betty.

The very last letter I shall write to you from the B. Y. U.

Saturday, April 12, 1924.

Dear Mug,

I've just received notice from the Banyan Boss that this is the last letter I can write to you this year. He says he must have this soon. This is a catastrophe which must be added to my annals here. Well, if this is the last I can write I suppose I'd better tell you about the main attractions between now and June.

Next week the L. D. S. U. Band will be here to give us a concert, the Sophs and Freshies are going on a hike and we're going to have a Lyceum concert.

One of the big events of the spring quarter is the election of student body officers. This year the final election comes on May Day.

Our Annual Invitational Track Meet and Relay Carnival is to be held Saturday, April the twenty-sixth. It promises much excitement this year.

Celestial Bliss

You can't beat the band

U.S. Use 3/21/24

Bloomin' Good

They've got the line

May second is to be a festive day this year. It's girls' day. We have a May Queen. We have also a concert, a program and a dance. Our dance is the most thrilling affair of the year for the girls must make the dates. It's more fun.

We meet the Aggie Tennis team at Logan May second; the U. of U. on May ninth at Salt Lake. On the tenth and twelfth we meet the U. and the A. C. here.

The State Track Meet is to be in Logan this year on May seventeenth.

Mask meetings promise to be very interesting. There are some play readings and one-act plays to be presented there. Cess Johnson reads "Leah Kleshna" first, followed by Mabel Straw with "Cappy Ricks," then Evelyn Maeser with "The Importance of Being Ernest," Amy Jackson comes last with "Miss Somebody Else." The Mask Club will also have a banquet at Hotel Roberts.

Some other things that will happen are the Orchestra concert; the Home Economics Department Fashion Review; Senior Day on May twenty-third and best of all "Y" Day.

On "Y" day the boys clean the "Y" on the hill, and the campus while the girls prepare their dinner. It's more fun, Muggins. Then at night we have a ball. It's always a gala event and every one goes.

Mug, will you come with me to Commencement Week? I'm sure we will have an interesting one. It is the week of June first to sixth. There are always a great number of alumni here, there is usually an alumni ball.

The Banyans will be out about May twenty-fourth. Then we'll enjoy ourselves writing phrases of forgetfulness in them all.

Hoping you're the same,

Banyan Betty.
